Profile

Dr. Anupriya has been a Research Scholar as well as Teaching Assistant at Jawaharlal Nehru University and at All India Institute of Medical Sciences, New Delhi. She has presented her work at prestigious international conferences in Greece and Belgium as well as at noteworthy national conferences organised by the Linguistic Society of India and by different Schools of Jawaharlal Nehru University.

She takes pride in her ability to captivate audiences and her students with her storytelling and oratory skills. With a commanding presence and a knack for intense engagement, she has honed her talent as a skilled public speaker and incorporates her diverse experiences into her classroom pedagogy.

Over the years, beyond research and academics, she has hosted numerous cultural programs and international conferences. These exposures have not only allowed her to showcase her communicative and event management prowess, but have also provided her great opportunities to bring people together and create memorable experiences. Effective team-based communication and interpersonal management come naturally to her, as she efficiently coordinates and guides her team members to achieve collective success.

Amidst her busy schedule, she finds solace and inspiration in writing poetry. Crafting verses has become more than a hobby; it is a cherished passion that allows her to express my deepest emotions and connect with others on a profound level. In fact, she is currently working on publishing her very own poetry book—a project that fills her with excitement and fulfilment.

Objective
